

Character Driver Assignments

1. Build simple Character Driver in which device is the memory block and using static major number assignment?
2. Build simple Character Driver in which device is the memory block and using dynamic major number assignment?
3. Build Character Driver in which user application will send 'a' or 'A' character and driver will send back character 'b' or 'B'?
4. Build the Generic Character Driver which can be used for the more Devices (user applications) of the same ? E.g. Same driver can be used for /dev/MyCharDevice* (* is from 0 to ..)